You Said;
Who are the unseen watchers?

The concept of "unseen watchers" can be interpreted in many ways, depending on the context. In some spiritual or philosophical traditions, they might refer to entities or forces that observe the world without directly intervening, often serving as guides, protectors, or observers of cosmic balance. In other contexts, they could be symbolic of deeper aspects of consciousness or awareness that exist beyond the surface level of perception.
Are you referring to a specific tradition, myth, or concept? Or is this more of a metaphysical question for you?
